

Fracking: The Financial Threat

Why fracking economics don't compute
Why the economy versus the environment is a false choice

Tuesday, June 11, 2019

7:00-8:30 pm

First Presbyterian Church, Room 206
252 College Ave, Beaver PA 15009

Speaker: John Detwiler

John Detwiler holds a Ph.D. in Biomedical and Electrical Engineering from Carnegie Mellon University (1971) and is a former faculty member at CMU. His professional career has included positions as a small business owner; a large-company operations manager directing multi-million-dollar capital projects; and a financial and strategy consultant to banks, manufacturers and governments. For the past 10 years he has devoted his retirement to volunteer work on issues of energy policy and climate change.

Sponsored by

BCMAC

Beaver County Marcellus Awareness Community
marcellusawareness.org

For more information, contact: bcmac.awareness@gmail.com